

THE UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

THEORY OF MIND WORKSHOP

JUNE 5TH (10AM-6PM) & 6TH (10AM-3PM)

LAW BUILDING MOOT ROOM 2.19

FOURTEEN TALKS BY PHD STUDENTS FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTRY WHO WORK
IN THEORY OF MIND AND RELATED AREAS (AND ALL THAT YOU'RE LOOKING FOR:
DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES, ATYPICAL DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES, ANIMAL STUDIES
AND RESEARCH IN TYPICAL ADULTS).

ALL WELCOME!

Organizers: Sarah Houthuys, Laurie Powis, Adam Qureshi, Andrew Surtees, Jessica Wang and Daniel Weisberg

Thursday June 5th 2008

09.30-10.00	Coffee
10.00-10.30	Auguste von Bayerne (Cambridge) : Do jackdaws understand what others can and cannot see?
10.30-11.00	Eleanor Limback (Nottingham) : The development of altruism
11.00-11.30	Megan Freeth (Nottingham) : Do Adolescents with Autism Look at Eyes and Follow Them? Evidence from Eye Tracking
11.30-12.00	Laurie Powis (Birmingham) : Social Cognition in rare genetic syndromes: Developmental trajectories in Rubinstein Taybi and Cri Du Chat syndrome
12.00-14.00	Lunch Break
14.00-14.30	Daniel Weisberg (Birmingham) : If 7-year-olds feel regret, do they understand that others feel regret?
14.30-15.00	Andrew Surtees (Birmingham) : What Develops in Theory of Mind?
15.00-15.30	Christoph Teufel (Cambridge) : Two-Year-Old Children's Understanding of Visual Perception and Knowledge Formation in Others
15.30-16.30	Tea Break
16.30-17.00	Jessica Wang (Birmingham) : What's the limit of adult's theory of mind
17.00-17.30	Sarah Bodley Scott (Nottingham) : Understanding others' emotions in social contexts: When the self is a participant, not an observer
17.30-18.00	General Discussion

Friday June 6th 2008

09.30-10.00	Coffee
10.00-10.30	Daniel Acquah (Nottingham) : Reasoning about mental states: Comparing accounts based on the 'curse of knowledge' versus selection processing
10.30-11.00	Sarah Houthuys (Birmingham) : The cognitive processing cost of desire reasoning in adults: Evidence from a non-verbal theory of mind tasks.
11.00-11.30	Adam Qureshi (Birmingham) : The contribution of inhibitory control to theory of mind in adults: a structural equation modelling approach
11.30-12.00	Stephanie Burnett (London) : Adolescent development of the mentalising network
12.00-13.30	Lunch Break
13.30-14.00	Terry Eskenazi (Birmingham) : Shared tasks, shared memories
14.00- 15.00	General Discussion